Whole Body Collagen is a whole-body formula designed to support the health of bones, joints, nails, skin, and hair. This product is specially formulated with three well-researched, proprietary collagen peptide blends that have been studied and shown to promote normal collagen production. Collagen represents 30% of total body protein. It is an important structural component of several tissues, including skin, teeth, joints, tendons, fascia, and bones. Beginning in an individual's mid-to-late twenties, the body's natural collagen production naturally slows. By age 80, it is estimated that collagen production in the body may be decreased by 75% compared to young adults. Slowed collagen production is evident in the body and may appear as wrinkled and sagging skin, thinning hair, and unhealthy bone strength and flexibility. With just one scoop per day of carefully crafted collagen peptides, Whole Body Collagen helps to maintain optimal collagen status throughout the natural aging process.
